To whom it may concern,

This is a letter of the strongest support for Robin Pool. I worked with Robin for more than a year on an academic document called “Climate Action in Higher Education: Roadmap” which you can find linked via this website. We co-created two documents, a long format academic document, and a short version document for decision makers.

Working with Robin was phenomenal and I would not of been able to create the document without her contributions. Robin helped to coordinate disparate text from many authors and integrated them into a common writing style. Robin also coordinated the look of both documents, creating a beautiful and attention catching document for decision makers. I was very pleased with the aesthetics of the document and when printed out it looks very professional.

It was a great pleasure to work with Robin. She is punctual, organized and coordinated. We had many sessions on zoom with clear goals, tasks, and deliverables. She is a clear communicator and an excellent editor.

Robin would be an excellent choice for your editing needs. The particular document she helped me with is academic in nature, but I am fully confident that she would also excel at other types of documents.

Yours Sincerely
Alexie Leuthaud
